Acknowledgements

The current project to record the graveyard was initiated by Vanda Emery, Assistant Verger of the parish church, who, in 2003 asked the Tring and District Local Museum and History Society if they would volunteer to carry out the task.

The author would like to thank the following who played a part in measuring the graveyard and recording the memorials –

Vanda Emery, Nicky Brown, Jean & Marcus Clift, Margaret Gittins, Margaret Oram, Margaret Wilson, Alan Partridge and Douglas Purse. He would also like to thank the Rev. Frank Mercurio, Vicar of the church for permission to carry out the work.

Introduction

The Manor of Tring (Treunge) is mentioned in the Domesday survey of 1086. It lies on Akeman Street a Roman road. Its Mansion to the south of the church was designed by Christopher Wren and later owned by Nathaniel Rothschild. From 1630 to 1650 Lawrence Washington, great-grandfather of George Washington, first President of the United States lived in the town.

The church of St Peter and St Paul stands in the centre of the town off the High Street on level ground. A low brick wall about 1 metre high totally encloses the church and its graveyards to the front and rear of the church. The third graveyard to the north of the church opens onto a car park to the west and has no wall but is bounded by the high wall of the former vicarage to the east. Inside the west wall is planted a yew hedge, which is kept trimmed, a number of gravestones, footstones and loose kerbstones which had once been fitted with iron railings, lie on the ground between the hedge and the wall. It is assumed that the railings were removed during the 1940's. About 1½ metres inside the east wall, a row of trees is spaced out at about 2½ to 4 metre intervals. The southern graveyard also contains a number of individual trees, some of which are close to, or intrude on, gravestones. A hedge lies inside the southern wall, which runs along the High Street. The northern graveyard has a few individual trees and the open graveyard next to the car park also has a number of individual trees.

The first incumbent of Tring Parish Church is recorded in the year 1214. The current Anglican Church dates mainly from the 15th century and is built from local flint and Totternhoe stone. To the north of the church is Sutton Court, built in Tudor style in 1825 as the vicarage and now in private hands. It has a fine brick and stone arched entrance at the end of Church Road. A number of cottages in Church Road, which once belonged to the church, are now in private hands.

Notes

- 1 - St. Peter & St. Paul has three churchyards, one adjoining the church to the south, one adjoining the church to the north and another larger one between the car park and the grounds of what was the vicarage to the north. This latter has few gravestones.
- 2 - Birth, Marriage and Burial records dating from 1566 to 1969 are held at County Hall, Hertford. The Society of Genealogists, London also has a copy on microfilm from 1566 to 1947. The records currently do not have an index.
- 3 - Memorials inside the church were recorded in 2002 by, The National Association of Decorative and Fine Arts Societies (NADFAS), entitled, Record of Church Furnishings, Volumes 1 and 2. These include a summary of names, and photos of the inscriptions. Copies are deposited at the church, at the Council for the Care of Churches, National Monuments Records at Swindon, the Victoria and Albert Museum and the Hertfordshire County Record Office.
- 4 – The church publishes a Short Guide to the Parish Church.

Churchyard memorials of Tring Parish Church, St. Peter and St. Paul

Three previous records of monumental inscriptions exist but none give the full personal inscriptions, and only one gives the location of some of the graves. Because some gravestones are now broken and may have been moved, some are now only partly legible, and some are no longer there, then comparison of the earlier records with the current, 2004, record may shed more light on those interred. The three records are –

- 1) By Miss L. Parsons, but the record date is not given.
- 2) By the British Mission Genealogical Board in 1945 – 1947.
- 3) By the Tring Parochial Church Council, dated 28 December 1972. This lists 107 names. A reduced size copy of the plan is included in this booklet.

The first two records were copied verbatim by Ron Spiers, in respectively, July 2003 and February 2004, from typewritten records held at the Society of Genealogists. The third record has the following statement -

Tring Parochial Church Council hereby give notice that they intend to apply to the Chancellor of the Diocese of St. Albans for a faculty to remove certain memorials and kerbs and to make level the burial ground known as the Old Cemetery, Tring.

A copy of the plan showing existing memorials and those intended for removal is available for inspection in the Parish Church and at the Vicarage during the month of January 1973. Any person wishing to object to this should do so in writing to the Secretary, Tring Parochial Council, c/o The Vicarage, Tring before 31 January 1973.

Dated 28 December 1972.

The Parsons reference at the Society of Genealogists is HTR4 Ac 23732
The British Mission reference at the Society is HT/MI

Ron Spiers is a member of Tring and District Local Museum and History Society, of Tring Park National Association of Decorative and Fine Arts Societies (NADFAS), and a member of the Society of Genealogists.

1) Miss Parsons record

A partial record compiled by Miss L. Parsons is held in the archives of the Society of Genealogists. It is not known on what date that the names on the gravestones were recorded by Miss Parsons. Her record has been copied by the author who has doubts regarding her interpretation of the Roman numerals on two gravestones, for T. Ellimen* and P. R.

Dewsbury* which appear to have been misread, perhaps because they are in Gothic lettering. They should conform to standard Roman numerals. Elliman/men may or may not be of the same family.

Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord
Rev. 14th Chap 15 verse.
Far better they should sleep awhile
within the church's shade.
And rest until new heavens, new earth,
Meet for their abiding place be made
Than wander back to Earth and lean
On one frail love once more.
For sweetness as ...?... lose.
Friends out of sight in faith we muse.
I ..?... go .. ?....

68 – Slab

The slab had been surrounded by an iron railing, which was probably removed in World War 2. It has a circular chiselled and embossed coat of arms. Inside the circle is a shield, which is capped with a griffin. The shield has in the top third, a fleur de lise, a rose, a fleur de lise. Under it is an upward pointing chevron. On either side of the chevron is a spread eagle facing left, with a single identical spread eagle beneath the chevron. Possibly 18th century. The inscription is difficult to read, possibly as follows -

Here lieth the Body of I I I I N RAYMOND
Late of the Inner Temple London Gent who departed this life Feb ? 7 ? in the.... Year of his.....

Authors note – The burial register has a, 'John Raymond attorney from London buried Feb 23rd 1763'. In view of his legal occupation, John is probably a member of the Raymond family of Abbots Langley.

Lord Raymond, of Abbots Langley, was Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench from 1724/5 to 1732/3. His coat of arms is, sable a chevron between three eagles argent and a chief or with a rose between two fleurs-d-lis gules therein. This is the same as on the Tring slab.

94 - War Memorial Inscriptions

Remember with thanksgiving the true and faithful men who in these years of war went forth from this place for God and the Right. The names of those who fell returned not again are here inscribed to be honoured for evermore. R.I.P.

For I sent you out with mourning and weeping but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness For ever
